There is always a little confusion and discomfort in change and the recent change in Management Company is no different.

The personnel at California Community Management are diligently working with the Board and Homeowners in making this transition smooth and as painless as possible.

However, recently California Community Management mailed out letters threatening fine hearings to those residents that did not remit their registration form within the allotted amount of time. This was a misunderstanding on the new management's part and they wish to apologize to anyone this may have upset. However, obtaining pertinent information from Homeowners is very important to assist in emergency responses. The intent was purely professional and not to cause conflict.

California Community Management appreciates the cooperation Homeowners have shown in this matter and look forward to working with your Association.
